"It's probably dead." "A little bit," replied the spider. "Why are you still here?" asked the king. "I may as well stay." "Why did you do that?" "What?" "That's the second time you've killed something. Didn't you say we would all have to leave if that happened again?" "I forgot. Sorry." "Why did you have to kill them?" "It seemed kind of important to me. You're a very important person." "I am?" "Yes, you are." "You haven't answered my question." "I think you know the answer to that." "I don't." "You know. You just don't like it." "Can you tell me why you did it?" "Because I could." "But you killed two people for absolutely no reason at all." "That's true. I guess I was expecting a certain reaction." "Why?" "I just was." "You weren't funny the last time, either. Maybe I've misunderstood what you're trying to do." "That's entirely possible. I may be doing everything wrong." "How's your leg?" "It hurts a little bit." "I can feel that." "It's been hurt a lot before." "That's a problem." "I don't know what it means." "It means you need to get some sleep." "I could learn some things about the world if I slept." "You're right. However, there are still people who can't sleep very well." "Is there anything I can do about that?" "Not in this form. You need to rest." "What if I asked you to help me instead of going to sleep?" "What do you mean?" "I'd like to get a better idea of what's going on. If you'll f678ea9f9e
